

The League Games.

The League games at the League grounds last Saturday afternoon, even not as well attended as expected, especially the first two of the series that between the Elks and Kams, although there was an addition to the crowd by the commencement of the second game, that between the Mailles and H A Cs. The late arrivals lost opportunity to see the best contest of the afternoon and although there were more discordant noises, in objectionable rooting by Maille sympathizers, yet the rooting was unreasonable, and to say the least, nonsensical and in aid of an unworthy cause. Many ladies were present as also several bearing the prefix of "honorable" notably, Hon Kubio, Parker, M Robinson, O Brown, W M Giffard occupied permanent positions. That the crowd should have been so small was both a surprise and a disappointment.

KAMS VS ELKS.

It was looked upon as a pretty close proposition to prognosticate, with certainty, the winner in this game the sun-browned veterans of the Kams, from their past record, being looked upon with most favor for first place. The Elks were by no means deficient in batters but their chances were not so regarded as within the line of "cinch." The game was called at 1:45 by Bowers and the Elks went to bat. Richards was in the box for the Kams and the first two men went out quickly. Bob White faced the pitcher and sent an over-fence drive to left that gave a home run to himself and the only tally, the next batter going out. The Kams went in and went out, Zam seeming to be in fine fettle and Russel as usual filling two places at once. The Kams continued to make ciphers to the last half of the 7th, their usually lucky inning, when by a combination of errors Jones managed to stop the shut out probability by obtaining an earned run. The Elks were busy in the meantime, picking up three, in the second, seven in the sixth, two in the eighth and three in the ninth a total altogether of sixteen runs made by them in their innings but only two of which were earned. It is hardly necessary after the above showing to describe the playing of the Kams as otherwise than "rotten" yet it was one of those undoubtedly "slump" days that the best of teams run up against and can't get away from.

MAILLES VS H A C.

"Here was a cinch" thought the outside friends of the Mailles, for that which the Mailles had done before, beaten the H A Cs, could better be done now as the Mailles had much improved in play, but— and there you are! The Mailles went first to bat and for the first five innings had the friends of the H A Cs living on Queer street, hard at work in a guessing shop. The Mailles got a total of six runs up to the end of the fifth (only one of which was earned), in the sixth the H A Cs playing light with goose eggs and a single run. In the sixth the Mailles added another unearned run to their score as did also the H A C. The latter nine seemed to get added ginger from some source in the seventh but it was more probable that Wren's arm gave out for the H A C batters hit him hard and by the aid of errors obtained three runs in that inning and although Hampton went in the box, the Honolulu added two more runs to their count in the 8th, winning the game as their opponents only gathered in ciphers from the fifth to the ninth inclusive.

Down the Road at Waiulus

The Hawaiian band went down to Haleiwa yesterday, arriving there at noon. It began playing as soon as they got to the lawn for about two hours. Playing was resumed from 4:30 to 7:30 o'clock. Vocal pieces were given by Mrs Alapai and John S Ellis, the latter with "The Holy City," which was repeatedly encored. Waiulus' elite did not respond as they should.

Shortly upon the arrival, after 10 o'clock a. m., of the early Haleiwa special train, golfers immediately took to the sandy links, to compete in the Haleiwa golf prize tournament. First prize was won by Byron K Baird, the second and third to two Waiulus plantation enthusiasts.

Prince and Princess Kawanakoa, Prince Kahanu, Acting Governor Atkinson, and quite a few others went down in the early special, returning in the evening by the same.
